A New Type of Summer School

The Summer Session has brought Middlebury College an enviable reputation for the distinctive work of its Language Schools, a reputation which has been enhanced by the Sessions of 1921 and 1922.

No efforts will be spared to make the Session of 1923 surpass the brilliant record of former sessions, and to maintain the principles for which Middlebury stands: Thorough preparation of language teachers, improved methods of teaching, mastery of the spoken and written language, and intimate knowledge of the life, customs, institutions and history of the countries of the language studied.

Organization

The organization of these special schools, with separate residences and dining halls for each, is designed to provide the best conditions obtainable for the intensive pursuit of the language. The language is not only studied but is constantly used. No elementary courses are offered, and, from the first, students speak the language of the school. Geography, commerce, industry, art, music, government, and institutional and social life are covered by the variety of courses offered. Native instructors are employed and the needs of every student receive attention.

Standard

The standard of work has steadily advanced in each school. Seventy-two per cent of the students enrolled in these two Schools in 1922 held baccalaureate degrees and more than forty held advanced degrees. While not exclusively graduate schools, only those undergraduates will be admitted whose qualifications are approved by Deans of the respective Schools.

Isolation

The successful application of these principles,—the housing of students apart from those using any other language; the concentration and unbroken continuity of the work of each student upon the language alone, and the careful supervision and co-ordination of courses to meet the different needs of all students, have given to the Middlebury Summer Session a wide reputation for its training in the modern languages.

A Good Investment

The value of the training is recognized by school boards, and institutions employing French and Spanish teachers, to such a degree that not infrequently they defray or contribute toward meeting the expenses of teachers attending the Middlebury Language Schools. One hundred and eighty-five dollars expended in attendance at a Summer Session at Middlebury has often yielded a better return to a teacher than would one thousand dollars placed to her credit in a savings bank. As compared with foreign travel, a session in Middlebury is more economical, provides courses better suited to the needs of American teachers, and gives an uninterrupted and intensive training which is not found in foreign institutions. Neither in foreign travel nor resident study abroad can the student find courses in methods comparable to those in the Middlebury Language Schools.

Location

The features which make the Middlebury Language Schools unique among summer sessions are not easy to describe; to be appreciated they must be experienced. The delightful summer climate is a most valuable asset of the session, and among the memories of students who have spent a summer on the campus of Middlebury College, there must be pictured many scenes drawn from its location in a countryside of surpassing beauty. The most favored university of a great city can never reproduce the scenery of mountains and meadows, of forests and fields, of valleys with their winding rivers, the hollows among the hills where the lakes lie, the Adirondacks, pink tipped in the morning sun, or the purple hills of the eastern range slowly darkening in the twilight. "The strength of the hills is His also."

Atmosphere

The central purpose of the Schools is to make everything about the life of a student during his stay contribute as richly and as pleasantly as possible to the thing for which he came, the mastery of the language. Similarity of aim among students coming from widely separated sections of the country fosters good comradeship and an esprit de corps; while constant intercourse with instructors at the dining tables, in songs and games, on hikes and picnics, no less than in the classroom, brings both inspirational and intellectual stimulus. Any language pursued under such conditions quickly becomes a subjective element in the life of a student. A high ratio of instructors to students is maintained.

Admission and Choice of Courses

In each of the Schools students may enter such courses as they are qualified to take, without examinations and without being candidates for degrees. It should be noted, however, that the Middlebury Language Schools are, by reason of the students attending them, and the nature of the courses given, essentially graduate schools requiring the highest degree of application and study. For this reason, only those undergraduate students may be admitted whose attainments are satisfactory to the Deans of the respective Schools. To insure being properly placed in courses, students should correspond with the Dean of the School concerned.

The right is reserved to place all students in the classes best suited to their advancement, and no students in either school are allowed to pursue courses in the other except such as, by reason of their proficiency in the language of the school of registration, may be permitted to do so by mutual consent of the Deans of both Schools.

Credits

As above stated, students may enter without examination, and without being candidates for a degree; but those who desire credits must indicate that fact when they register, and, if candidates for a degree, they must present evidence of their qualifications before they will receive credits, either for baccalaureate or advanced degrees.

Not more than six credits may be gained by an undergraduate at a Summer Session, and not more than eight credits by a graduate student. No student will receive credit who has completed less than the full session (thirty classroom exercises at Middlebury, twenty in the European sections) not including examinations. (See also, pp. 19 and 33.)

Certificates Students satisfactorily completing their courses will be given a Summer Session Certificate indicating the work done. These certificates are useful evidences of professional study, and often are accepted by examiners, school boards and superintendents in lieu of examinations. No certificates will be given for attendance, and none to students who fail to complete their examinations.

The Master's Degree Candidates for a Master's Degree must hold a baccalaureate degree from Middlebury College or from some other college approved by the Committee on Graduate Work.

To obtain the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science at Middlebury College, thirty credits are necessary. Twenty of the thirty credits must be obtained at Middlebury College. Thirty credits toward graduate work may be gained by proficient students in four Summer Sessions. Students with six or more credits accepted from other institutions may complete their work for the Master's Degree in three sessions.

The Committee on Graduate Work will pass upon the credentials and courses of candidates for the Master's Degree.

Students desiring to count credits taken at Middlebury toward degrees to be secured elsewhere should secure permission to do so from the institution to which they wish the credits transferred.
Social Activities

In both the French and Spanish Schools of the Middlebury College Summer Session, where it is essential to maintain at all times the national atmosphere, the social life plays an all-important rôle. By "social life" or "social activities" is meant not only receptions, excursions, and entertainments, but also and mainly the daily routine outside of the recitation room. This social routine is so arranged as to include frequent opportunity for the students to associate with the instructors in an informal way; lively and interesting conversation during meal hours, each table being presided over by an instructor; outdoor readings of literary gems, story telling, etc., songs, games, plays, etc.; Sunday services in the language of each School; informal discussions of subjects of interest to teachers; weekly dances or receptions; excursions, hikes, etc., and a final entertainment.

Students who can play such instruments as the violin, guitar, mandolin, etc., are requested to bring them so that they may take part in the entertainments.

Inasmuch as each School has to defray its own expenses for entertainments, it has been customary for students to contribute a small sum (about $1 for the entire session) toward such expenses. This contribution is entirely voluntary.

Out-of-Door Life

No college in the East offers more attractive surroundings than are found at Middlebury in summer. The climate is delightful and the program of studies is so arranged as to leave much time afternoons and Saturdays free for recreation. Recitations are conducted out of doors so far as practicable. Groups of students frequently spend an afternoon at the lakeside or in the mountain forests. Party lunches are provided at a reasonable charge. Among the most enjoyable features of a summer’s sojourn at Middlebury are the camp-fire suppers and informal picnics of these friendly groups. Good automobile roads make accessible a large number of interesting places within a radius of a day’s trip from Middlebury. Crown Point, Lake Champlain, Fort Ticonderoga, and Lake George may all be visited in one day by automobile. Motor boat trips to Lake Champlain may be made from Long Point at moderate cost.

Tennis Courts  The college tennis courts, of which six additional ones were completed, are reserved for the use of those students and instructors of the Summer Session who pay a fee of $3.50 for the entire session. The courts reserved to the French School students, and those reserved to the Spanish School students are subject to the regulation and control of the respective Deans.

Offices  The Summer Session enjoys the full use of the buildings and grounds of the College. The Director’s Office is on the top floor of the Old Chapel, the central building of the Old Stone Row on the lower campus. The office of the Dean of the French School is Room 3, south entrance, Painter Hall. The office of the Dean of the Spanish School is Room 15, Middle Painter Hall.

Board and Room  Life is made as attractive as possible in all the halls of residence. The college farm, dairy, and garden are drawn upon for fresh and seasonable supplies, and it would be hard to duplicate at any summer resort, at much greater cost, the housing and dining accommodations provided. Arrangements for personal laundry may be made, after arrival, with the matrons of the halls of residence. Bedding and linen is furnished by the College. For rates for the French School, see p. 20; for the Spanish School, see p. 36.

The Opening of the Session All students should arrive in season to begin work at the opening of the Session. The French and Spanish Schools will open June 29 and continue until August 16, 1923. August 14-15 will be taken in both Schools for the final examinations. Classes will be conducted as heretofore five days in the week.

The French and Spanish Houses of residence will open to receive students on Friday, June 29, and lunch will be served upon the arrival of the midday trains. No guests can be received earlier. Both houses will close after breakfast, Friday, August 17, and no guests can be accommodated after this time.

Registration of Students It is important that immediately upon arrival students should consult their Dean in regard to the definite selection of courses. For this purpose the Deans will be at their respective offices from 9 a.m. to 12 m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., Friday and Saturday, June 29 and 30. Immediately after consulting their Deans students should register at the office of the Secretary of the Summer Session, Old Chapel.

Advance Registration Since accommodations are limited, it is advisable for reservations of board and room to be made as early as possible. Tentative reservations will be made until May 1 without charge. A reservation fee of ten dollars will be required on May 1; no rooms will be held after June 1 for which this deposit has not been made, and no refund of the registration fee
SCHOOLS IN FRANCE AND SPAIN

A section of the French School will be conducted in France and a section of the Spanish School in Spain in the summer of 1923. The French School will be located in Paris and the Spanish School in Granada. The courses of study will be carefully planned to meet the needs of American teachers. Twenty days of resident study will be provided in each school and this will be supplemented by many visits to points of interest. The European schools will be conducted on the plan of the French and Spanish Schools at Middlebury and will be officered and taught by persons familiar with the purpose and methods of the Middlebury Schools. Work done in the foreign schools by properly qualified candidates will be accepted for credit toward the Master’s Degree at Middlebury.

The School in Paris will open July 16 and will end with examinations on the 13th and 14th of August. From August 15 to August 29 this school will be conducted through provincial France, Normandy, and Brittany. The School at Granada will open July 16 and end with examinations August 13 and 14. From August 15 to August 29 the school will be conducted to points of interest in Spain.

Special circulars on the foreign schools will be mailed upon request.

NOTE: Besides those students taking this course to count toward the Master’s Degree, any and all students who wish to follow this course as listeners will be permitted to do so.

No student who does not understand and speak French fluently will be allowed to follow advanced courses for credit.

Courses 12-14 and 15 meet three times a week.

No student will be admitted to the school who is unwilling to promise to use no English while in attendance. This rule goes into force from the time of arrival of the student.

The Dean reserves the right to dismiss students who wilfully break this rule, which has become a cherished tradition of the school.

The evening entertainments in Pearsons Hall will be continued. There will be a general regular meeting every Sunday evening and all students are requested to make a special effort to be present at this session.

The regular literary and social assemblies will be held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings.

Saturday evening will be given over to dancing. Outsiders who do not speak French will not be admitted to these dances.

Chapel services in French will be held every Sunday morning at eleven o’clock in the Mead Memorial Chapel.
These services are not obligatory, but any and all students interested in French are invited to attend.

The first official assembly of the School will be held in the Mead Memorial Chapel on Sunday morning, July 1, at eleven o'clock. All students of the French School are required to attend.

Correspondence regarding the school should be addressed to the Dean of the French School, Professor H. P. W. de Visme, Maison Française, Middlebury, Vermont.

Correspondence regarding rooms, tuition, etc., should be addressed to Miss Helen Blanchard, Secretary of the Summer Session, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

The Dean’s Office is in South Painter Hall, Room 3.
Credits

For all lettered or numbered courses two credits are given for successful work. For conversation courses and work in reading aloud one credit is given.

The French Houses

Pearsons Hall is a large white marble structure of colonial style, built in 1911 as a hall of residence for women. It is located on a commanding height overlooking the surrounding country in all directions. Battell Cottage is adjacent, with rooms and a large dining hall accommodating more than a hundred. Ample, shaded grounds adjoin Battell Cottage and Pearsons Hall, and the latter has a large social hall. Chairs and benches placed on the lawn and under the trees provide students pleasant opportunities for reading and study out of doors. Hillcrest and Hillside Cottages are but a short distance away and form a part of the French House. Starr Hall, a handsome old stone dormitory of colonial style, furnishes convenient quarters on the lower campus. Each suite in this hall accommodating two students, contains a commodious study and separate bedroom. The building is equipped with toilets and showers.

The French Houses are provided with books, pictures, periodicals, and newspapers. Officers of the Bureau of Schools, France, co-operate with the Dean of the French School in securing materials illustrative of French life and art. The French teachers are in charge of the tables in the dining halls, and all students have an opportunity to hear, speak, and think French continuously throughout the Summer Session.

Lectures and readings outside the regular courses are given by members of the staff; there are also French plays, musicals, and dances. Social gatherings, illustrated lectures on French life and art, dramatics, reading of French poetry, and singing of French songs will occupy the evenings.

During the Summer Session religious services will be held in French in the Mead Memorial Chapel, as last summer. The services are not obligatory. The Dean will conduct them.

Special Opportunities for Teachers

The attention of teachers is called to the fact that the Middlebury French School is now in operation throughout the year. Students may enter in July, September, or February. This School offers unusual advantages to those desirous of perfecting themselves in the French language and literature. The rule of speaking only in French is maintained throughout the school year.

So many demands for good teachers reach the School that it would be an investment for teachers or prospective teachers to take six months or a year in the School in order to obtain its certificate.

Tuition and Fees

The cost of service and the increased cost of securing instructors of the high standards demanded by the French School have necessitated another slight increase in rates. It is sincerely hoped that the peak has been reached in all the factors entering into the cost of maintaining the School. No appropriation is provided for carrying on the work of the Summer Session, and it must be self-sustaining. At the present rates, student expenses will be found lower than in the large city universities. Expenses are payable at the opening of the Session.

In the French School, rates vary according to the houses of residence and single or double occupancy of rooms. The rate of registration, tuition, board, and double room is as follows: Pearsons, $165; Maison Française, second floor, $165; third floor, $160; Battell, Hillcrest, and Hillside, $165; Starr Hall (two rooms en suite for two), $165; Painter (north), en suite, $165, and Painter (middle), en suite, $160; with single rooms in Pearsons Hall, $200; in Maison Française (second floor), $180; (third floor), $175; in Battell, Hillcrest, Hillside, $180. Persons rooming outside will be boarded at the French dining halls at $10.50 per week. Persons rooming and boarding outside, and attending recitations and social events, will pay registration and tuition fees only, amounting to $70.

A room reservation of $10, payable on or before May 1, is necessary to hold rooms beyond that date. Rooms thus held may be cancelled before June 1, without loss of fee; no reservation fees are returnable after June 1. Owing to fixed obligations for service, instruction, and maintenance charges, persons leaving the school before the close of the Session must not expect reimbursement of charges for rooms or tuition for the unconsumed time.

THE COURSES OF STUDY

No beginners' courses are given. Those offered are designed for teachers of Spanish and students who have attained some proficiency in the language. These courses are organized and conducted in such a manner as (1) to carry the student's knowledge far beyond that gained through the ordinary college courses, and (2) to give the student absolute confidence in his or her ability to use the language. Ear and speech undergo constant training and special emphasis is laid on correct pronunciation and on acquiring fluency and ease in conversation. The full list of courses is as follows:

ADVANCED COURSES

Laboratory Course

1. SYNTHETICAL SPANISH PHONETICS, b, c.

A theoretical and practical study of Spanish sounds in combination, with daily drill in coalition, stress, intonation, rhythm, and expression. The dictaphone will be used in connection with this course, not only for the analytical study of the grouping of sounds and the intonation curves, but also for the purpose of recording the students' pronunciation and observing their mistakes and their progress. The number of students in this course is strictly limited to fifteen. An extra laboratory fee of $10 per student will be charged.

Daily at 8:00

Professor Moreno-Lacalle.

Text: Phonetic pamphlets by Professor Moreno-Lacalle.
Recitation Courses

2. SYNONYMS AND ANTONYMS, b, c.
   A lexicological and ideological study of Spanish words, with practical exercises in composition, for the purpose of equipping the student with a greater variety and accuracy of vocabulary. The course will include not only the study of words and constructions of analogous meaning, but also those of opposite meaning.

   Daily at 9:00
   Professor Moreno-Lacalle.

Classroom Work

The work in the classroom is so planned and conducted as to stimulate the self-activity of the students, each and every one of whom is given frequent opportunity to speak. In the conversational courses the burden of the conversation is carried by the students, the instructor’s task being confined to a brief talk in the beginning of each recitation, and to directing the discussion, correcting errors and requiring every member of the class to take due part in the discussion.

Social Activities

In the Middlebury Spanish School, where it is essential to maintain at all times the national atmosphere, the social life plays an all-important rôle. By "social life" or "social activities" is meant, not only receptions, excursions and entertainments, but also and mainly the daily routine outside the recitation room. This social routine is so arranged as to include:

(1) Sufficient time and frequent opportunity for the students to meet and associate with the instructors in an informal way.
(2) A certain number of hours a day when the students can hear Spanish spoken idiomatically and when they will be corrected in such mistakes as they may make in their familiar conversation.
(3) Lively and interesting conversation during meal hours, each table being presided over by an instructor.
(4) Outdoor readings of Spanish literary gems, story telling, etc.
(5) Spanish songs, games, plays, etc.
(6) Sunday services in Spanish.
(7) Informal meetings for discussion in Spanish of subjects of interest to students.
(8) Weekly dances or receptions.
(9) Excursions, hikes, etc.
(10) A final performance is given in the last week consisting of Spanish musical and vaudeville numbers and a Spanish play.

For the regular and periodical carrying out of these activities a weekly program is posted on Saturday morning of the preceding week, in accordance with the following outline:

Daily Routine of Social Activities

On Sundays, at 7:00 p.m., divine services in Spanish, with singing of Spanish hymns, are held at Mead Memorial Chapel.

Every afternoon, from 5 to 6, outdoor meetings are held for the reading by members of the staff of Spanish literary and poetical selections.

The daily evening program begins promptly at 7:00 with the lecture assigned for the day, the functions for each day of the week being as follows:

- Mondays: Students' meetings, presided over by an instructor, for the discussion of subjects of interest.
- Tuesdays: Chorus singing by the students of Spanish national and folk songs.
- Wednesdays: Spanish parlor or open-air games.
- Thursdays: Spanish entertainments, the programs consisting of musical numbers, recitations of poems, dramatized anecdotes, short plays, etc.
- Fridays: Informal dances.
- Saturdays: Excursions and hikes in groups of students.

The "Juegos Florales" The Spanish "juegos florales" (floral games), dating from the times of the Provenzal troubadours, is a literary feast held annually in different cities of Spain for awarding prizes to the best poetical works submitted at previously held competitions.
The first prize consists of a natural flower which is presented at the "juegos" by the presiding "queen" selected by the winner. The "queen" makes the presentation of the prizes from her throne of flowers, surrounded by her "corte de amor" (court of love), and after the speech by the "sostendor" of the "juegos."

The Literary Competition

With that end in view, a Spanish literary competition will take place at the Spanish School, calling for the following works: 1st, a lyric poem, meter and subject to be chosen by the competitor; 2d, a short story in prose on a Spanish legendary subject, not exceeding 1,000 words; 3d, an essay discussing the advantages of the Spanish language from the cultural, social, and commercial points of view, not exceeding 2,000 words. The conditions of the contest will be announced in due time. The contest closes at midnight, July 24.

Illustrative Material

For the convenience of the students, the Spanish books in the College Library are transferred for the period of the Session to the Social Hall of the Spanish House, where there is also a supply of the best Spanish periodicals, and collections of photographs, stereopticon views, pictures, and other material illustrative of the life, industries, art, and geography of Spain and Latin America.

Tuition and Fees

Although the cost of maintaining the Spanish School has materially increased, only such advances in rates have been made as are absolutely necessary.

A uniform charge of $185 covers registration, tuition, board and room, and the $10 deposit for advance registration is credited on the student’s account. This rate is made for the full period of the School, June 29 to August 16. Persons rooming outside will be boarded at the Spanish dining hall at $10.50 per week. Persons rooming and boarding outside, and attending recitations and social events, will pay registration and tuition fees, amounting to $70. Owing to fixed obligations for service, instruction, and maintenance charges, persons leaving the School before the close of the Session must not expect reimbursement of charges for rooms or tuition for the unconsumed time. Expenses are payable at the opening of the Session.

Correspondence regarding courses should be addressed to the Dean of the Spanish School, Professor J. Moreno-Lacalle, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

Correspondence regarding rooms and rates should be addressed to Miss Helen W. Blanchard, Secretary of the Summer Session.
MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
FIFTEENTH SUMMER SESSION

The work of the Summer Session of Middlebury College is unique in that it is wholly conducted in special schools, thereby securing qualitative standards impossible in the conventional and unspecialized type of summer session. In addition to the Schools of French and Spanish described in this bulletin, there are conducted a School of Spanish in Granada, a School of French in Paris, and the following special schools at Middlebury and Bread Loaf:

THE SCHOOL OF ENGLISH
THE SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY AND
THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Special circulars of each of these schools will be sent upon request.
